

Student PIRGS, New Voters Project/Voter - Internship

StudentPIRGS is a non-partisan consumer advocacy group made up of a consortium of state groups throughout the country. Both the NVP and VPP focus on protecting our democracy, making citizens aware of elections and what is necessary of them to vote!

At StudentPIRGS we believe that democracy is at its best when as many eligible citizens participate in our democracy as possible. In the time before the 2012 elections our goals are to create opportunities for voter registration, raise awareness about how to most effectively have citizens' voices heard as well as to lobby state senators and representatives against new barriers to voting that have been introduced and (some) passed in state legislatures.

I am looking for motivated students who have an interest in political science, grassroots organizing and/or lobbying as future careers.

The responsibilities of this internship are flexible and will depend on students' interests. Students will gain valuable skills including communication, convincing writing, grassroots organizing and lobbying.

Interested students should email me with their resume and a short cover letter explaining their interests. We are able to compensate students by providing class credit and letters of reference.
